

Kier - Adjudication Training - November 2017

An important one day training workshop on the topic of adjudication was delivered by GVE director Steve Goodwin and well-respected barrister and adjudicator Tony Bingham to a number of Kier Group's senior employees.

Kier is investing heavily in the development of their professional staff and this workshop is an example of how Kier Group's senior employees can progress their knowledge and skills through being tutored by leading industry practitioners.

Steve Goodwin is a respected and well-known expert in dispute management and resolution in NEC contracts and has managed and been a part of numerous adjudications.

Tony Bingham is a renowned practicing barrister, arbitrator, adjudicator and mediator and has been appointed to well over 500 adjudication disputes. He is a member of numerous nomination panels.

The workshop covered an appraisal of legal aspects of adjudication, the key adjudication procedures and timings and valuable practitioner and adjudicator views on the whole process.

Delegate feedback was extremely positive and scored the tutors' knowledge of the subject matter as "extensive and exceptional".
